

Ghost Scouts: Hullabaloo at Camp Croak

Author and Illustrator:
Taylor Dolan

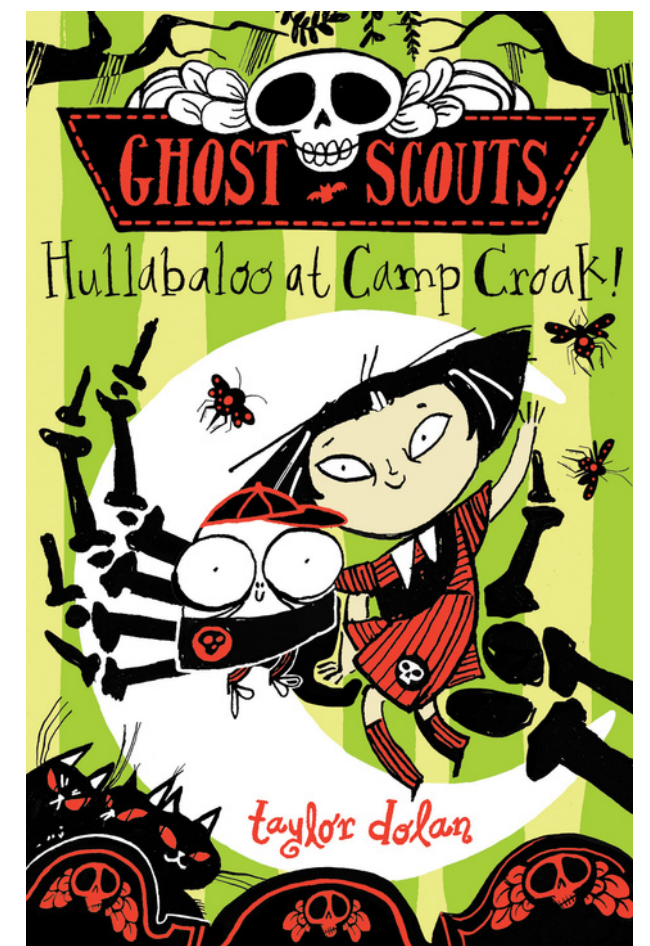

Age: 5 +

Genre: Fiction - comedy and horror

This is the book for you if you like ...

- Spooky yet sweet stories.
- Weird and wonderful characters.
- Summer camps with a twist.
- Amelia Fang by Laura Ellen Andersen.
- Zombierella: Fairy Tales Gone Bad by Joseph Coelho.

Summary: Lexi Wilde returns for more feisty fun at Camp Croak. She is having an awesome summer with her besties — a werewolf, ghost and zombie — but when Grams doesn't turn up on Visitor's Day, complete chaos unfolds at the camp. And who on earth is this secret person claiming to be Lexie's mom? Lexie and her pals must put all their talents together to save the day. The second instalment of this spooktacular series is a laugh a minute page-turner for newly independent readers.

Extracts: If I showed up at your front door, looked you square in the eye and said, "Whatever you do next, don't think about giant tap dancing lizard unicorns," we both know, no matter how hard you tired, those Liz-a-corns would shuffle flap across your brain quicker than a Broadway chorus. (Pages 1/2)

Mary had a mega migraine so she took her head off for a while. Literally. She took it off and tucked it into bed. I screamed out loud the first few times I saw her strutting around with an empty neck. But, hey! I learned, I adjusted.

But sitting here on my bed, stuck in these awful thoughts, I didn't want to learn or adjust. How could I adjust to future without Grams? (Pages 84/89)

HILARIOUS - GOTHIC - BUBBLY