Summary: The fourth book in the hilarious, ghoulish story of Lexie Wilde and her ghost scout pals. Lexi is having a rollicking time at Camp Croak until the smarmy scouts from Happy Hollow issue a deadly challenge. With the help of her friends, Lexie must save their beloved camp from being destroyed. BUT, there is the added danger of malicious whispering snakes on the loose! Lexi has to overcome self-doubt and work with her rivals.

Extracts: The softest little giggle escaped her lips and a terrible chill settled in the room. I found myself shivering like a chihuahua in a snowstorm.

“If you loose,” she continued, enjoying every word, “Camp Croak becomes the property of the Happy Hollow Camp for Joyful Boys and Girls, and I will personally see that it burns to the ground. (Pages 33/34)

There is only one way to take on a herd of Whispering Snakes. You gotta hear what they are saying and throw it back in their smug little faces by hollering something good about yourself. (Pages 72/73)
