

Pizza Pete and the Missing Magic

Author: Carrie Sellon
Illustrator: Sarah Horne

Age: 7+

Genre: Fiction - magical realism, comedy

This is the book for you if you like ...

- Tasty pizzas and mysterious potions.
- Awesome super powers.
- Silly dogs who cause a little mayhem.
- Unlikely friendships and courageous acts.
- Charlie Changes Into a Chicken by Sam Copeland.
- The Danger Gang by Tom Fletcher.

Summary: Pizza Pete is back! Pete and his dad return to Accringham to see Anna, Archie and Useless the dog after a glorious summer selling pizzas from their van. He's looking forward to starting the school term and seeing his freinds after such a long time. But when the magical potions go missing, and Pete discovers one of his friends is behind the theft, he has to summon all his courage to save the day - plus make use of some magic! Filled with flying, friendship, magic and PIZZA!

An exciting page turner with a pacy plot, lots of laughs and sensitive issues explored with authenticity. The second book in the award winning Pizza Pete series.

Extract: I fell, then stopped. My plastic apron tie had caught on the edge of the gutter. It was holding my entire weight. I immediately regretted that second sausage roll.

'HELP!' I screamed. 'PLEASE!'

But Fox had disappeared. A moment later there was a flapping noise and a pigeon landed in the gutter next to me.

'Thanks for rubbing it in,' I muttered. 'You can fly.

Well done you.'

My heart stopped. What if I could fly too? What if I'd picked up the Flight potion?

Unlikely . . . but still, a one in eight chance.

(Page 115)

IMAGINATIVE - AMUSING - RELATABLE